Committee on Behalf of Bill.

SCHOOL CASES IN POINT

Mrs. Mussey, J. F. Oyster, and W. F. Gude Show Need of Representation in Congress.

Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, member of the District Delegate Association, formerboard of education, has written a letter to the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia strongly advocating a faor columbia strong, and the senate on the Poindexter bill for the election of a delegate from the District to Congress. Mrs. Mussey, who writes from Atlantic City. N. J., said in part:

"I have been a resident of the District to Congress and actively interested in for forty years and actively interested in all that concerns the welfare of the people. It is my belief that no community of equal intelligence in the United States ever suffered so much from misrepresen-tation as have the citizens of the Dis-

Refers to Schol Case.

"A case in point was the recent discussion in the House of Representatives on certain school questions, when the District appropriation bill was under consideration. If we had been represented there by a delegate he would have been when the trick that the would have been apple to the control of the able to state that the public school sysable to state that the public states are supported to the support of a board of education, consisting of nine citizens of the District, serving without compensation and appointed by the judges of the Supreme Court of the District; that this board and the superintendent deemed it wise to give the children an opportunity once a year to give to a carefully super-vised charity, and for this purpose a vised charity, and for this purpose a small envelope is provided for each child to be returned sealed to the teacher, either with or without a contribution. Thus, the child could not be "humillated," as a gentleman from a remote district feared might be the case. Acting withreliable information, a clause was added to the bill, designed to prohibit this wise and needed lesson in charity.

"The wisdom and experience of the superintendent and the board of education goes for naught, because the men on the goes for naught, occause the local condi-tions. I could multiply these examples many times."

Other citizens have written letters and otherwise urged the Senate District Com-mittee to report the Poindexter bill fa-vorably. It is pointed out by the District Delegate Association that if the bill is laid before the Senate, even without rec-ommendations, that it will be passed by a large majority.

Others Voice Appeal.

William F. Gude, president of the number of Commerce, has written to the Senate committee advocating of the Poindexter bill. Capt. passage of the chamber, and for many years president of the chamber, and for many years president of the board of education, has pointed out to members of Congress the great out to members of Congress the great need for a delegate to be elected by the people of the District.

Mr. Oyster emphasizes at every oppor-tunity his firm belief in the maintenance of the half-and-half plan of financing the of the half-and-half plan of infancing the Capital. He agrees with Mrs. Mussey that, judging from their legislative experience while members of the board of education, the public school system will be greatly benefited if the District is repated in Congress by a delegate,
